

TRADE SECRETS FORUM 2019

SEPTEMBER 19, 2019 | CROWNE PLAZA PALO ALTO

Join us for the Daily Journal's second annual Trade Secrets Conference, a full-day, interactive conference designed to address the most significant developments on matters critical for your success.

By bringing together leading inside and outside counsel, judges and key trade secrets professionals, this conference offers attendees timely updates, emerging trends, and a variety of perspectives.

Our outstanding thought leaders will lead panel discussions on important topics such as protecting trade secrets, damages, criminal and civil trade secret proceedings, evidentiary and international issues, among other things.

This interactive conference is for corporate counsel, litigators, and those involved in the ever-shifting trade secret environment both domestically and globally. All those attending, whether you are just starting out or a seasoned professional, will walk away armed with insights concerning key trade secret issues that impact your clients, companies and careers.
